Magic Kingdom at your pace

A mobility-friendly self-guided day. Follow the route, choose the rides that suit you and make room for breaks.

Time: Allow 4 to 6 hours for sightseeing, meals and breaks, plus attraction queues. Equipment arrangements also need time for TTC transport.

Your route at a glance

1. TTC handover at 9 AM (equipment option only)
2. Main Street and the castle hub
3. Adventureland to Liberty Square
4. Lunch at Columbia Harbour House
5. Fantasyland; optional Tomorrowland
6. Main Street and return to TTC by 6 PM

Route sequence, not a measured path. Follow Disney signs and the current park map around closures. With the free guide, start at Main Street and finish at your own pace.

TTC handover and collection

With equipment: 9 AM handover and 6 PM collection at the Transportation and Ticket Center (TTC) Guest Drop-Off Lot, rideshare/Uber/Lyft area. Save the exact pin and local partner number at handover. The TTC is separate from Magic Kingdom; allow time for the monorail or ferry each way.

The $129 USD equipment option covers one scooter for one rider, this guide, handover, collection, mandatory fees and applicable taxes. The digital guide alone is free. Park admission and meals are separate.

Start with the details

1. Get comfortable at TTC

Check the battery and practise moving, turning, reversing and stopping before leaving the handover area. Keep your partner number and return pin handy. Use the TTC restrooms, then follow signs for Magic Kingdom transport. Ask the boarding Cast Member about scooter access.

2. Main Street and the castle

After entry, pass beneath the railroad station into Town Square. Continue along Main Street to the castle hub, then take the Adventureland entrance on the left.

Look up: The upper-story windows honor people who helped create Disney parks. Near Casey's Corner, look for Howard Roland, who worked on the first Walt Disney World resort hotels. At the hub, take your castle photo clear of the moving crowd.

Access and a pause: Remain on your scooter for sightseeing. Use curb ramps. Ask a Cast Member where to park before entering a shop. City Hall has restrooms and companion restrooms. Center Street is a suggested break spot.

Time: 20 to 30 minutes for orientation and photos, excluding shopping.

3. Adventureland to Liberty Square

Follow the main paths toward Jungle Cruise and Pirates of the Caribbean. Continue toward the Pecos Bill side of Frontierland, then use the available signed route to Liberty Square. Choose one priority attraction before adding another.

Look for: Jungle Cruise moves through scenes inspired by the Amazon, Congo, Nile and Mekong. On the guest paths, compare the jungle planting with Frontierland's wooden facades and Liberty Square's colonial-style buildings.

Breaks: Try the area beside the Pirates restrooms or behind Ye Olde Christmas Shoppe. Ask a Cast Member for help finding a less busy spot. Allow 45 to 60 minutes for exploring, plus ride queues.

Lunch, then choose your pace

4. Columbia Harbour House

This Liberty Square quick-service stop fits the route and serves seafood and New England-inspired food. Check its current menu and hours in Disney's app; mobile ordering is available. Choose a suitable seating area with a dining Cast Member before collecting food.

Alternative: Continue to Pinocchio Village Haus in Fantasyland for Italian favorites. Look for the Pinocchio details and ask about the area overlooking the small world boarding boats. Nearby restrooms include companion facilities.

Time: 45 to 60 minutes. Check your water, battery and energy before choosing the afternoon.

5. Fantasyland and an optional extension

From Liberty Square, follow the signed route toward small world and Pinocchio Village Haus. PhilharMagic is near the castle side of Fantasyland; Under the Sea is farther into the land. Choose one attraction first.

A sightseeing detail: If the castle passage is open, look at the glass mosaics telling Cinderella's story. If you ride Under the Sea, watch the scenes change from Ariel's collection to Sebastian's musical sea life and Ursula's lair. The ride does not get you wet.

A pause: The area near the Fantasyland Wishing Well is a suggested break spot. Tomorrowland is optional; reach it using signed paths via the hub, then enjoy the changing architecture. Allow 45 to 75 minutes, plus queues.

6. One last look and your return

With equipment, begin heading back around 5 PM, earlier if transport queues are building. Return down Main Street, leave the park and follow TTC monorail or ferry signs. Ask a boarding Cast Member about scooter access. Reach the same confirmed TTC handover point by 6 PM.

With the free itinerary, choose your own finish. Return any separately arranged equipment according to that provider's instructions.

Boarding at a glance

Attraction	Scooter / transfer planning
Jungle Cruise	May remain on scooter. Ask about accessible boarding.
Pirates of the Caribbean	Transfer to a wheelchair, then into the boat. Short drop and dark scenes.
Haunted Mansion	Transfer into ride vehicle. Transfer-access vehicle available.
Mickey's PhilharMagic	May remain on scooter. Indoor 3D show with sensory effects.
it's a small world	Transfer to wheelchair; wheelchair-access vehicle available.
Under the Sea	Transfer to wheelchair; wheelchair-access vehicle available.

A shorter day with fewer transfers

Main Street and castle, Jungle Cruise, lunch, PhilharMagic, then Main Street and exit. Jungle Cruise and PhilharMagic allow guests to remain on a scooter. Skip other rides and Tomorrowland to leave more time for breaks.

Help along the way

Ask attraction Cast Members about transfers and where to park and retrieve your scooter before joining a queue. Ask nearby Cast Members for restroom or First Aid directions. For equipment questions or a delayed return, use the local partner number saved at handover.
